The Well-Tempered clAIvier

Fugue XVIII in G-sharp minor, nineteen voices: Vigilate

Nineteen voices (open score, nineteen keyboards)

Claude / Sam (after J. S. Bach, BWV 887 and BWV 61)

Vigilate: from the evening to the morning (♩ = 104)

Soprano IV

Alto IV

Tenore II

Baritono II

Basso I

I: subject (soprano)

I: answer

I: answer (D# Phrygian)

I: subject

I. Sero: subject (Phrygian) in the bass

16

S4

S5

A2

A5

T1

T2

T4

Br1

Br2

B1

II: answer, off the beat, over the door subject

II: subject (Aeolian), entering off the beat against the door subject

II: subject, off the beat, over the door subject

II. Media nocte: door subject (first time)

II: door subject on A# (with the answer)

II: door subject in the baritone

30

S2

S3

S4

S5

A1

A2

A3

A4

A5

T1

T2

T3

T4

Br1

Br2

Br3

B1

B2

III: answer (D# Aeolian)

III: door subject on top (parts exchanged)

III: subject (Dorian)

III: subject in the tenor (parts exchanged)

III. Galli cantu: door subject (Dorian)

III: door subject on A# (Dorian)

45

S1
S2
S3
S4
S5
A1
A2
A3
A4
A5
T1
T2
T3
T4
Br1
Br2
Br3
B1
B2

Summit chain: subject (Dorian) a third higher every two beats

Summit chain: subject (Dorian) a third higher every two beats

Door subject 4, on A#

Summit chain: subject (Dorian) a third higher every two beats

Door subject 3, on D#

Door subject (knocks), Dorian, the rise hurried

Summit chain: subject (Dorian) a third higher every two beats

Door subject 1 (stretto), on D#

Summit chain: subject (Dorian) a third higher every two beats

Door subject 2, on A#

Summit chain: subject (Dorian) a third higher every two beats

Door subject (knocks) in the baritone

Summit chain: subject (Dorian) a third higher every two beats

Summit chain: subject (Dorian) a third higher every two beats

56

IV. Mane: subject in A-flat major (Ionian), at the top

IV: answer (E-flat Mixolydian)

IV: subject

IV: answer

IV: subject in the bass; the light reaches the depth